Grandpa Fritz's Freezer/Refrigerator Pickles

These pickles were a favorite of our friend, Irene Genelin's grandfather, Fritz. This is an easy way to make pickles without having to process them in a water bath canner. They freeze great, and will last for up to one year.

7 C peeled (or not peeled) sliced small cucumbers (slice thin on the slicing side of a cheese grater)

1 C sliced onions

1 Tbsp. salt

Stir these ingredients together

Let stand for 2 hours or overnight.

Mix together 2 cups of sugar, 1 cup of vinegar (lemon juice is another variation) and dill or dill weed (optional)

Drain cucumbers. Pack into jars and pour over liquid to 1/2 inch from top. Refrigerator for several days or freeze.
